

The ambient vendstation is the perfect ambient vending machine for a whole host of different products. Depending on customer requirements and items stocked, the Callisto Plus can be fitted with a unit that maintains its interior temperature at 5°C for optimal product quality in any environment.

A highly customisable touchscreen user interface, which brings customers a dynamic, responsive, and highly engaging experience, while also providing limitless advertising opportunities through the display of rich visual content. The Callisto Plus can be produced in a variety of different colours, with bespoke branding options (labels, stickers, and decals) available. Each machine comes with full access to the Vend Smart suite, which features a raft of innovative software solutions, each detailed in the following section.

Inside there is no lift, so products will drop from their shelf – bear this in mind when choosing what to stock!

Depending on configuration can hold up to 344 products

240v

Contactless payment options or via app

Production from December 2021.

The machine should be cleaned out every week or if any product is spilt inside.
